Meetings:

Term: Fall 2019

Times: 2:35–5:25 PM Fridays, September 6 – November 29

(Class cancelled October 25 for Fall break)

Room: Paterson Building PA 234

Online Resources:

All course papers and other resources will be available online through CUlearn. Use your Carleton ID and password to log into <http://culearn.carleton.ca>.

Course Objective:

Students completing this course should gain a deep understanding of the psychological research relating to cognition and design, as well as how to design and conduct user studies.

Topics:

Main topics will include:

- Human perception
- Cognitive psychology
- Social psychology
- Personality psychology
- Developmental psychology

- User study design
- Distributed cognition
- Affective computing
- Human error
- Persuasive design

Assessment:

Assessment will be based on work including: in-class presentation and discussion of papers from the literature; a literature survey of a relevant area; and a user study project evaluating the design of a piece of software.

Paper presentation and discussion: 20%

Literature survey: 35%

User study project: 45%

The majority of class meetings will be discussion based. We will cover three readings from the literature per week, and one student will be responsible for leading the discussion of each reading. Students are expected to read all papers, and take turns leading discussions. The grade for paper presentation and discussion will be based on student presentations and discussion of assigned readings.

There will be no formal examination for this course.

Textbooks:

There will be no set textbook. Instead, papers from the literature and online resources will be made available as appropriate.

University Policies

Student Academic Integrity Policy: Every student should be familiar with the Carleton University student academic integrity policy. A student found in violation of academic integrity standards may be awarded penalties which range from a reprimand to receiving a grade of F in the course or even being expelled from the program or University. Some examples of offences are: plagiarism and unauthorized co-operation or collaboration. Information on this policy may be found in the Undergraduate Calendar.

Plagiarism: As defined by Senate, “plagiarism is presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own”. Such reported offences will be reviewed by the office of the Dean of Science.

Unauthorized Co-operation or Collaboration: Senate policy states that “to ensure fairness and equity in assessment of term work, students shall not co-operate or collaborate in the completion of an academic assignment, in whole or in part, when the instructor has indicated that the assignment is to be completed on an individual basis”. Please refer to the course outline statement or the instructor concerning this issue.

Pregnancy obligation: Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist.
